Peak Enrollment at Abbot Academy

School Filled to Capacity—New Teachers Appointed—Miss Jenks on Leave

On Tuesday Abbot Academy began its one hundred and eighth year with the registration of new resident students. The school has a capacity enrollment of one hundred and twenty-four residents (an increase of nine over last year) and thirty-five day students (an increase of seven over last year). There is a wider distribution of pupils, Virginia, Florida and Arkansas all having representatives in the new student body. The customary welcome was extended the new students by a committee composed of some day students and members of the Christian Association, under the leadership of the President, Diana Greene of Kennebunk, Maine.

New members of the faculty are as follows:

Francis Merritt, who takes the place of Mrs. Gladys Brannigan as teacher of art, Mrs. Brannigan having left to devote her entire time to painting. Mr. Merritt is a graduate of the Yale School of Fine Arts and has had excellent training at the Massachusetts School of Fine Arts and the Vesper George School, as well as two years of apprentice work with C. J. Connick, distinguished designer of stained glass.

Miss Ena Marston, teacher of English. Miss Marston is a B.A. and an M.A. of Mills College, Oakland, California, an M.A. of Radcliffe, has done graduate work at the University of California and the University of Washington, and for the last four years has been a member of the faculty of St. Helen's Hall Junior college in Portland, Oregon. Miss Rebekah Chickering, of the English Department, died in Paris this summer after having served Abbot academy for thirty-eight years. Her senior classes will be taken by Miss Alice Sweeney, who will also act as academic advisor.

Miss Gertrud Rath, who with Miss Barbara Humes will serve as assistant to the principal. Miss Rath is a B.A. of Hollins college, Virginia, an M.A. of Texas University, has studied at the New School for Social Research in New York, and for the last five years has been associated with the Y.W.C.A. of the City of New York. Miss Fanny Bigelow Jenks, formerly the registrar and assistant to the principal, is to be away this year on a leave of absence.

Dr. Marguerite Hearsey, principal, conducted the first chapel service of the year in Abbot hall on Thursday. The chapel was completely and beautifully renovated during the summer in keeping with the period of the building. On Sunday afternoon tea will be served in the rooms of various members of the senior class in honor of the new girls. Students and faculty will be invited to these welcoming teas, which are traditional in the school, when the seniors set the pace for neatness, taste, and hospitality in their rooms.

A P C to Install Next Thursday

Miss Louise Sherman will be installed as president of the A.P.C. sorority of the South church at the opening meeting next Thursday night. A supper will be served prior to the installation.

Other officers to be installed are: Miss Reta Atkinson, vice president; Miss Irene Wells, corresponding secretary; Miss Dorothy Ruhl, recording secretary; Miss Marion Hill, treasurer; Mrs. Frank T. Carlton, counsellor; executive committee: Officers, Miss May Elander, Miss Esther Colby, Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast; Mrs. Ada C. Brown, auditor; Mrs. J. Albion Burt, musician; Mrs. Charles Cole, assistant musician; Miss Alice McTernan, chairman of visiting committee; Miss Maria Fairweather, chairman of flower committee; Miss Irene Cole, publicity committee; Mrs. Leverett White, chairman, Mrs. George Abbott, Mrs. Harold Leitch, charitable committee.

Mrs. Carl Elander, and Mrs. Frank Petty are co-chairmen. The supper committee: Mrs. Frank S. Crawford, Mrs. Franklin T. Ellis, Mrs. A. J. Crotty, Mrs. Roland Parisian, Miss Helen McGraw, Miss Nola Porter, Mrs. Robert Souter.

Teacher Loses Money in Theft

Miss Reta Arkinson of 24 High street, on a shopping expedition with two other local public school teachers, had her pocketbook stolen from her in a Lawrence store on Saturday night. She had put the bag on a chair, and when she turned around, it was gone. It contained ten dollars in bills and her driving license.

The Lawrence police later reported finding the pocketbook with driving license.

Gallery Exhibiting Own Collection

Most of the exhibitions held at the Addison Galleries can be seen in their turn at other museums in the country: the current exhibition is unique in that it can only be seen in its entirety at Andover. It consists of the whole collection of American art owned by the Gallery, with the exception of some drawings and prints not shown, and one or two paintings which have been temporarily loaned. Most of the paintings at any rate, have been seen on the walls by those who know the Gallery well, since it is the policy of the Curators to make changes at one time or another, in the hanging of the permanent collection, not only to allow most of the pictures to be shown, but also by changing their usual positions, to prevent their becoming stale to the eye. But several pictures owned by the Gallery are kept most of the time in the storage rooms, or in other parts of the school, and some are recent acquisitions and therefore are new to the visitor.

Many of the unfamiliar pictures are in the three rooms downstairs, which are filled with prints and drawings, both old and modern. The drawings of the eight-

Sirois Given Majority Here

Only Lawrence and Andover Show Stronger Republican Vote than in 1936

With only Andover and Lawrence showing a stronger Republican vote than in November of 1936, Lawrence Connery, brother of the late Congressman was elected to the vacancy at the special election on Tuesday with a margin of 13,280. Two of the other communities in the district remained about the same in party strength as at the November election, while the other eight showed increasing strength for the Democrats.

Seven of the twelve towns gave a Republican majority, with Lawrence and Lynn rolling up almost enough of a Connery margin to secure his election. Andover gave Sirois 1837 votes to Connery's 880, providing the largest Sirois majority in the district.

Ballardvale reflected the Democratic tendency, giving Sirois only a three-vote margin. Precinct two gave Sirois only a 16 vote margin, but the other four were overwhelmingly for the Republican candidate.

The vote was heavy for a special election, with Andover casting about 47 percent of its registered vote. Shawsheen kept the percentage down with only 38 percent voting, while Ballardvale had only 40 percent. Precinct one voted 54

Rev. Albert C. Morris of Church of Ascension Accepts Call

Rev. Albert Coursin Morris, vicar of the Church of the Ascension in Boston, yesterday accepted a call to the rectorship of Christ Church, vacant since the resignation early in the year of Rev. Charles W. Henry. Rev. Mr. Morris will commence his new duties the first Sunday in November.

Rev. Mr. Morris has been vicar at the Church of the Ascension since 1934, also being director of Emmanuel house, a settlement house maintained by Emmanuel church. The three preceding years he had spent as rector of St. Thomas' church in New Haven, Conn., and the two years before that as rector of Trinity Episcopal church in Wethersfield, Conn.

Rev. Mr. Morris was born in 1904 and was raised in Texas, living in San Antonio. He attended the University of Texas, and after spending a year in business he went to the Episcopal Theological seminary in Alexandria, Va., working at the same time for his master's of art degree at George Washington university. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from the seminary in 1929.

Mrs. Morris was raised in Powhatan County, Virginia, and she lived in Washington for a number of years. Her father, Lieutenant Colonel John H. Finney, was Washington manager of the Aluminum Company of America. He died in 1930. Mrs. Morris was Miss Minna Booker Finney before her marriage three years ago.

HOLD CHOIR SUPPER

About 30 were present Wednesday night at a delicious supper served the West church choir in the vestry. A rehearsal followed the supper.

Special music will be rendered by the choir Sunday under the direction of Miss Hazel Alexander.

PLAN CHARITY BRIDGE

The Tuesday club will hold a charity bridge for the Lawrence clinic on October 29 at the Memorial gymnasium. Dr. W. Dacre Walker is prominently connected with the clinic.

Sprechen Sie Deutsch?

A Lawrence German Teacher will take a class of ten adults in Elementary German at a charge of about .30 cents a lesson. Anyone interested in forming such a group should call And. 992-R.

Cowcatching

"Field driver and keeper of the town pound" is the very imposing title given Fred L. Collins, fire captain, last Friday morning. Everyone knows what a keeper of the town pound is, though what he does when there is no town pound is hard to imagine. In olden days everyone knew what a field driver was, but very few are acquainted with that dignitary's duties today. We're told that a field driver has the task of finding lost cows who have strayed from pasture.

The story was released to the newspapers by chairman Howell Shepard of the board of selectmen, but somehow it didn't seem quite right to us, for three reasons: (1) Fred, between the fire department and the school department where he is head custodian of the Central schools, has plenty to keep him busy without chasing cows and boarding canines; (2) the need of such an official didn't seem particularly pressing; and (3) Selectman Shepard is well-known to have a fondness for that brand of humor known as practical jokes.

So we checked up. What happened on the surface was this: Fred came in to the town house and was sworn in by the town clerk to the faithful performance of his new duties as field driver and bowwow landlord. What actually happened was this: Fred sometime ago was appointed a special police officer, but had not been sworn in; Friday when he came into the town house, George asked him if he wanted to be sworn in, and without a bit of suspicion even when he saw Shep in the background, Fred went over, raised his right hand, and said "I do," after George reeled off some words which really were unintelligible to Fred. Then he was congratulated on his new appointment as cowcatcher and dogkeeper. Fred next reeled off some words which weren't

Can You Guess Who These Are?

These men ten or so years ago down at Harpswell, Maine, may have been able to guess the weight of any of the fish they caught if any, but the chances are that none of them could have guessed what their own weight would be as of today. Some of them have put on so much more poundage that you probably can't make out who they are. Two of them have passed away, while two have become very important figures in the town's officialdom.

Try to guess who they are, and after you try, turn to page fourteen for the correct answers.

unintelligible to anyone, proving that you can take—and make—an oath. He tendered his resignation, but then Town Treasurer Eaton entered the intrigue with the information that you could not resign until a successor is appointed, which gives a life job to Fred, without pay.

We haven't learned yet whether or not Fred has been lobbying with brother Everett to try to get him and Roy to override Shep. Meanwhile if your cow goes astray, don't bother to call Fred because we don't believe he has the slightest intention of taking care of the duties of his office.

Overloading

Judge Hargedon told one about the now retired officer Tom Dailey last June at the testimonial given the popular Shawsheen officer. Not many judges saw Tom in an official capacity, because he tried to make people obey the law without going to the extreme of arresting them.

One night Tom was determined to arrest somebody. He had seen a car come along at a rather fast rate, and whistling it to a stop he strode over with the swagger that said: "Tom Dailey's not particularly pleased about this." He came up to the driver and after starting to tell him something about the law, he glanced in the car to see it crowded with the driver's very ample family, and not apparently a family used to comfortable living. Suitcases, bags, and a number of other articles were fastened to running boards, trunk carriages, everywhere that they could get a hold.

Tom stopped short in his lecture, looked at the wobegone driver, and said: "And besides you're over-loaded; go on, now, get along with you."

PLAN STAG PARTY

A stag party is to be held at Lake Attitash on Saturday evening by the British War Veterans. Those going will meet at five at the Square and Compass club. The committee includes Norman MacLeish, Harry Bland and William Cargill.

PLAN HARVEST SUPPER

The Philathea class of the Baptist Church will hold a harvest supper on Saturday, October 9.

State League Here on Tuesday

Plans are complete for the conference of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters to be held here on Tuesday morning and afternoon. The morning sessions at 10.30 will be held at ten different homes in Andover, and the afternoon session at two will be held at Peabody house, with Thomas Eliot, counsel for the social security board as the speaker.

The meeting of the government and legal status committee will be held at Mrs. William Crowley's. The others will be held as announced in last week's Townsman.

Members are asked to bring a box luncheon to be eaten at Peabody house at noon, with the local League supplying coffee.

To Hold Rally Day at Baptist Church

The annual Rally Day will be held next Sunday at the Baptist church. Classes of the Sunday school will be held as usual at 9.30 with a general rally day program to follow, consisting of welcomes, special music, announcements, etc. Assistant superintendent Clare Norton and heads of the departments will be in charge.

Adults to Start Gym Class Again

Andover's adult men who have watched with increasing alarm the increasing size of their waist-line will start a gymnasium class next Wednesday night at 7.30 at the Memorial Gymnasium. On Tuesday evening at 7.30 the women's class will start.

There will be two sessions this year, with the second starting after Christmas.

Work on Plans for Church Bazaar

A meeting of the general committee for Christ church bazaar which will take place in the town hall on December 9 and 10, was held in the parish house on Wednesday evening.

Reports by the chairmen of the various committees showed a large amount of goods for the fair had been collected with promise of much more to come.

Miss Alice Jenkins is in charge of the decorations at the hall and as her judgment is always excellent in regard to variety in decorative schemes, a charming effect is to be anticipated. The theme will be Winter and the town hall will be transformed as much as is possible to carry out the Christmas scene.

All the space on the sides of the hall has been divided to prepare for the different tables and a large assortment of holiday gifts, as well as articles one may use for everyday, will be on display for sale. Dolls, aprons, handkerchiefs, children's gifts and clothing, fruits and vegetables, preserves, food, nuts and candy are being solicited, and have arrived in large quantities and other miscellaneous articles especially for the White Elephant and Grab table are still wanted. Christmas Greens will be a feature. A special table for the things men like, mostly in the smoking line will be a novelty and Christmas gift purchasers need go no farther than the town hall to get a large percentage of their holiday presents.

A tea table will be an attraction and supper will also be served.

While everyone is welcome, small children must be accompanied by their parents and a small charge for adults for the evenings of the fair may be made. This is for the entertainment which will be put on each evening.

The bazaar is being held to raise money for the parish needs and all interested are very cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Walter Howe and Mrs. Roger Peabody are co-chairmen of the bazaar committee.

Musical Clubs Elect Officers

The Punchard High School Musical Clubs, under the direction of Miss Miriam Sweeney, supervisor of music in the Andover schools, have elected the following officers for the coming year:

Orchestra—President, Marion Schermer; vice president, Elinor Houston; secretary, Ruth Napier; treasurer, Robert Crosby; librarian, Gladys Greenhow; stage manager, G. Whitte Chandler.

Girls' Glee Club—President, Agnes Martinson; vice president, Alice Bertram; secretary, Mildred Forsythe; treasurer, Betty Carmichael; librarian, Phyllis Burridge.

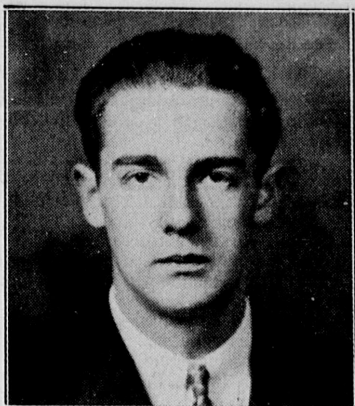

Boys' Glee Club—President, Robert Crosby; vice president, Frederick Butler; secretary, Garrison Holt; treasurer, Paul McDonald; librarian, Walker Lindsay.

Rheumatism Pills Cost Man $50

Fred Thomas of North Andover, who testified that his erratic driving was caused by grogginess resulting from the taking of rheumatism pills, was fined $50 in District court Tuesday morning on testimony of Methuen and Andover police.

Captain Thomas McCarron of the Methuen police testified that he had noticed Thomas driving in an erratic manner along the Reading road, and he and officer Carl Stevens pursued him from the underpass toward the town. Officer Stevens testified that the defendant was slightly unsteady and had an odor of liquor on his breath, which was caused the defendant stated, by the drinking of a beer in Boston.

Says Town Better Off in Chest Plan

The following statement in connection with the Community Chest drive has been issued:

"According to the board of directors of the Andover Guild, the guild is better off under the Community Chest plan than under the old method of providing for its needs.

"In the campaign a year ago the Andover Division raised approximately $4,000, while the actual cost of the services rendered to the people of the town by Chest agencies was $5,186 with a per capita cost of $4.22. Thus it will be noted that for each dollar given $1.29 in services was returned to the community.

"A total of 1,227 Andover residents benefited from the Chest during the past year. Of this number 572 were young people of the town, who were provided with wholesome recreation and guidance in their leisure time by the Guild. The remainder were served by various other agencies of the Chest.

"The City Mission served 15 people of Andover, extending material relief and counsel in their personal problems to a number of families.

"Eight homeless aged women from the town were cared for at the Protectors of Mary Immaculate while one child from Andover was provided with a comfortable home and an opportunity for educational advancement at St. Ann's Orphanage.

"Another Andover child was given care for eight weeks at the health camp of the Tuberculosis League.

"The M.S.P.C.C. investigated the cases of 48 cruelly abused or neglected children in the town.

"From Andover, the Y.M.C.A. had 102 registered members; the Y.W.C.A. 148, and the Y.M.H.A. nine.

"The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts maintain troops in Andover, including 262 Boy Scouts and 55 Girl Scouts.

"The International Institute served six people from the town.

"Under the Chest plan the people of Andover can provide for their social welfare needs in the most practical and economical manner. The plan assures the widest distribution of contributions and guards against duplication and overlapping of service.

"It deserves the generous support of all right-thinking citizens."

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO MEET

At 6.30 p.m. next Monday, October 4, the Courteous Circle of The King's Daughters will hold their first meeting of the year in the South church vestry. Supper will be served promptly at 6.30. The business meeting, at which there will be an admission service, will start promptly at 7.30.

Have You a Hobby?

Have you a hobby? Is there a member of your family or a friend, who has one? Will you lend your collection, a product of your handicraft, or something that represents your activity to the Hobby Show?

This show will be held at the town hall on Friday, October 22 from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday, October 23 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., under the auspices of the Andover League of Women Voters.

Exhibits must be brought to the town hall between 7 and 9 p.m. on Thursday, October 21, or between 9 a.m. and 12 noon on Friday, October 22, and removed between 6 and 9 p.m. on Saturday, October 23. Exhibits left after this time will be at the exhibitor's risk. If you cannot call personally to remove your exhibit, kindly give permission in writing to the one you send. The committee will not be responsible for placing exhibits received late.

Twenty-five cents for each exhibitor, payable at the time of entry, will be charged to help pay a special policeman during the day and a night watchman on Thursday and Friday nights. No admission charge is required of exhibitors.

Reasonable care will be taken of exhibits, but the committee does not accept responsibility. The public will be instructed not to touch articles on display.

A popular ballot will be cast for the most interesting exhibit, and a prize awarded the winner.

Please notify Mrs. Ernest Young, 70 Elm street, concerning the nature of your exhibit and the approximate amount of table, floor or wall space necessary.

Trunk-line Sewer Proposition Is An Unnecessary and Expensive Idea

If Andover's annual town meeting were asked to spend from $160,000 to $200,000, considerable thought would be given before the voters consented to appropriate that much. Yet in the larger cities along the Merrimack at present a series of hearings are being held on a proposition for which Andover would have to pay $160,000 to $200,000 whether it wishes to or not.

Last March the town found that it had to contribute a sum for the shellfish purification plant down at the mouth of the Merrimack. Most Andover residents didn't even know that such a plant had been built, let alone that they would have to pay for part of it. But now the town does have to pay a share, and will continue to have to pay a share. Even if the meeting voted "No" on the appropriation, the town would still have to pay the bill, because the state legislature says it does.

If the legislature passes the bill authorizing the construction of a trunk-line sewer down the Merrimack, it will have a very decided effect on the tax bills, personal and real, here in town. And the chances are that the legislature would pass the bill, for it was silly enough to authorize a survey of "The Needs of the Merrimack Valley," including sewage, roads, flood control, and even winter sports. The legislature can find enough ways to spend money without conducting a survey to find more places to spend it.

It's our money, however, and it is up to this town to protest against the construction of such a trunk-line sewer. Several town officials and taxpayers' association directors went up to the hearing in Lowell, with the Taxpayers' association head registering a protest with Dr. Chadwick of the Board of Health. The work that he has started should be continued by officials and citizens alike, and our representatives at the state legislature should be urged to vote against the bill if and when it comes up.

That there is no need for such a sewer is manifest. Engineers and health experts know that there is sufficient water in the Merrimack river to sufficiently dilute the sewage that now goes into it within a very few miles. Lowell's sewage pollution by the time it arrives ten miles away at Lawrence, is so slight that it is easily made pure at the filtration plant. Lawrence's and Andover's sewage is pretty much diluted before it arrives at Haverhill, which need not worry about pollution anyway because it gets its water supply from Lake Kenosha.

When the Merrimack runs dry, we'll need a trunk-line sewer, but in the meantime, let's let nature take its course without making the taxpayers in every city and town in the valley pay for something that's not needed.

Tom Dailey

Down at the Shawsheen school last Friday afternoon the children presented a little program. It was all carefully planned, with poems about police officers, singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "Auld Lang Syne," and the presentation of a gift. Not in the program, but expressing the sentiments of all the children was a little impromptu remark made by a village tot: "Tom Dailey's my friend."

Tom retired on Tuesday. The state law which the town adopted last November set September 28 as Tom's last day of work on the local police force, and although he is still capable of fulfilling his duties, he yielded to the new pension law. Tom's name hasn't often been seen in court records, but it's because he was "everybody's friend" that he was able to do his part toward law enforcement without taking people into custody. He was seldom angry, never sarcastic.

The many who, like the youngster in the village, have the privilege of calling Tom their friend all wish him the happiness he deserves after serving the town for so long.

Grange Hears of Legion Convention

Andover Grange met in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening. After the regular business meeting the program was in charge of Essex County and Middlesex North Pomona. The entertainment consisted of vocal solos and exhibition dancing by Miss Doer of Amesbury. Past Master Edward Gremaire of Merrimack told in a most interesting and humorous way of his trip to the recent American Legion Convention in New York. He is a veteran and member of Merrimack Post American Legion. There were about 125 members and guests present from Haverhill, Bradford, Boxford, Merrimack, West Newbury, Westford, Chelmsford, Lowell, Pepperell and Dracut Granges. Refreshments were served by a committee from Andover Grange in charge of Past Master and Mrs. Earl Ferguson.

The Dramatic Club of Andover Grange met recently in Grange Hall. During the business meeting plans were discussed for a play and supper to be held early in November. The next meeting will be held in Grange Hall on Thursday, October 28. This is to be a Hallowe'en party. A social time followed and refreshments were served.

CHURCH SCHOOL TO OPEN

A Haverhill and a Quincy car came together on Monday morning at the intersection of Shawsheen road and Lowell street, with the Haverhill car coming out second best. Proceeding up Lowell street, it was hit by the Quincy car coming out of Shawsheen road and turned over. No one was injured. The accident was investigated by Officer David Nicoll.

Many Present at Scotch Night

An enthusiastic and appreciative audience filled the Free church parish house on Tuesday evening, and listened to a fine program of music and readings given under the auspices of the Ways and Means committee. It was Scotch night and the different selections were most appropriate for the occasion. Rev. John Nicol Mark of Arlington gave a very inspiring talk on Robert Burns, interspersed with jokes and anecdotes which kept the company convulsed with laughter.

Rev. Herman Johnson, pastor, welcomed the gathering and the program went on without further announcement. Mrs. May Black Wells of Malden sang beautifully several numbers, her selections being "Pale Moon," "Luxembourg Gardens," "My Laddie," "My Ain Folk" and as a closing number Brahms "Lullaby."

Miss Betty Campbell of Lawrence, made a great hit with her readings. She gave monologues, impersonations of movie stars, which were excellent, and character sketches. She had costume accessories which added to the parts she played and her facial expression changed with each person she represented. Her numbers were most favorably received and when she ended with "Bairnies Cuddle Doon," there was hardly a dry eye in the audience.

Mrs. Ruth Smith, who accompanied Mrs. Wells, is an accomplished musician and she played Prelude by Chaminade as a solo selection.

Motion pictures of Scotland showing the Clyde, Dundee, Edinburgh and Aberdeen, delighted many to whom these scenes were familiar.

Rev. Mr. Mark is an able speaker, and being a Scotsman by birth, knows his "ain countree" and its noted persons. He praised Robert Burns for many things, his religious teaching as exemplified by the "Cotter's Saturday Night," his sense of humor, his hatred of war, although he wrote one of the most military poems of the age and which is now the battle cry of Scotland "Scots Wha Hae," and his internationalism and world consciousness as shown in his poem "A Man's a Man for a' That" and in "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Mark's fund of stories is remarkable. Those in charge of the event were Mrs. Leslie Christison, Mrs. William Orr, Mrs. Hugh McLay and Mrs. Lewis Paine, and they are to be congratulated on the excellence of their program.

Golf Champion Addresses Club

Horton Smith, a member of the Ryder cup team for the past five years, North and South open champion and runner-up in the Western Open last week, was the guest speaker at the eleventh annual Golfers' dinner held last Saturday at the Andover Country club. The annual prize awards were made as well as the special Golfers' day prizes.

The 1936 champion, Charles Fairbanks, acted as toastmaster, being introduced by Kirk R. Batcheller, chairman of the golf committee. Horton Smith was introduced by the club pro, John Shimkonis.

At the head table were: James H. Eaton, Clifford M. North, George C. Best, Emil J. C. Shulze, Walter M. Lamont, C. S. Waugh, Charles P. Fairbanks, Horton Smith, John Shimkonis, Henry Black, Stafford A. Lindsay, Edward A. Anderson, Michael J. Lane, Alden R. Taylor and Kirk Batcheller.

Miss Martha Sweeney

In Memoriam

Mrs. T. Dennie Thomson

JULY 8, 1951—SEPTEMBER 23, 1937

If Andover gave much toward the development of the personality of Mrs. Abby Locke Thomson, it has received bountifully in return at her hand.

Coming to Andover as a young girl, she grew up in the historic house on Elm Street with her four sisters and brother, all the children of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Locke. She received at Abbot Academy the beginnings of her education—an education that continued all her life long. She loved books and her mind was stored with poetry. A charter member of the November Club, she took an eager interest in the Department of Art from its beginning under Miss McKeen's leadership, and for many years shared in the rewarding study of that group. She gained much from it, the more because she gave much, not wholly through the results of her own researches but partly by her quiet enthusiasm and responsiveness when some one else was reporting.

That was characteristic of her, to make the interests of others her own, as any one would find on conversing with her. The charm of her face and manner, and the rich and varying tones of her musical voice will long be remembered.

She had a strong love of beauty in nature, as well as in literature and art—flowers, fields, woods and the sunset skies which she used to watch from the Abbot Street home. That the town should have an attractive appearance was a matter of great concern to her. She rejoiced in every new development or bit of beautification and heartily upheld the Village Improvement Society in its work.

Her thoughts and vigorous interests ran free and far. In late years, she kept in touch through the radio with politics and world events. On the other hand, her sympathies were always finding practical expression in friendly thoughtfulness for those near at hand who were in need of help.

It seems most natural to think of Mrs. Thomson in the home. It was in 1874 that she married Mr. Thomson, whose father was then rector of Christ Church. The family group, including four children, Eleanor (Mrs. Castle), Philip, Clara (Mrs. Knox), and Rosamond (Mrs. Pratt), remained unbroken until Mr. Thomson's death in 1929. Mrs. Thomson's affectionate understanding of her grandchildren and other young people was partly due to the fact that her own spirit never grew old.

BOY! WHAT A LINE TO BUCK!

Improvisation in Dupre Program

Marcel Dupre, the phenomenal organist of St. Sulpice in Paris, will include one of his wonderful improvisations in his programme on October 22, at Cochran church, Phillips academy. At Dupre's New York debut in the Wanamaker auditorium in 1921 he amazed and dumfounded musicians, critics and public alike by improvising an entire symphony in four movements, lasting thirty minutes, upon themes submitted to him by six prominent organists only five minutes before. H. T. Finck, veteran music critic of the New York Evening Post, described this feat as a "musical miracle" saying it was "one of the most enjoyable half hours I have spent in forty years of critical experience."

Marcel Dupre

The critic of the New York Times wrote: "Improvisations such as Dupre's are rarely heard from any musician. It is like a statue revealed under the sculptor's chisel." The New York World reported that Dupre's improvisation "caused general amazement." In Philadelphia while playing a recital on the largest organ in the world, at the Wanamaker store, before eight thousand persons, Dupre improvised a Christmas Symphony of four movements, lasting forty minutes which caused F. L. Waldo, the music critic of the Public Ledger to write: "Here is a magician of the keyboard. Such playing is one of the phenomena for which there is no accounting."

With such a musical ancestry, it is not surprising that young Marcel should have given signs of his predestined vocation at an early age. In his games and conversations, he exhibited a fixed passion for organs, drawing pictures of them on paper, on the walls of the house, and even collecting wood to make parts of the instrument himself. When four years old, he heard Widor play at the dedication of the great organ at St. Ouen, and immediately determined to become an organist.

At seven he commenced the study of music seriously. At eight he played Bach for Guilman, who consented to take him as a pupil. At ten he appeared in public as a virtuoso, beginning a career which has been a long series of triumphs. At twelve he was appointed organist of the Grand Organ in the Church of St. Vivien at Rouen, becoming a pupil of Guilman at the same time. His first important composition, an oratorio, "Jacob's Dream," was performed in 1901, when Dupre was fifteen years old. He then entered the Paris Conservatory where he took the first prize in piano when 19 years old, first prize in organ under Guilman at 21, first prize in fugue under Widor at 23, and at 28 won the supreme honor, the Grand Prix de Rome for his cantata, "Psyche." His extraordinary feat of playing the entire works of Bach from memory in a series of ten recitals at the Paris Conservatory is a matter of history. His American debut was in the Wanamaker auditorium in 1921.

It is so sweet to be sad when there is nothing to be sad about.—Countess von Arnim.

Give Physical Exam to Students

The sophomore class boys of Punchard high school were examined Wednesday morning in the gymnasium, by five men from Boston University. The boys' names, heights, weights, and ages were recorded on cards, which the boys were given to be filled out, as they took the various tests. They were tested in lung power, pressure of hand grip, leg lifting power, back lifting power, and push and pulling power on the horizontal bar and the rings. The boys were tested on several new machines, which the instructor said were very expensive, but accurate. One or two more tests will be taken later on. The other classes were all tested at various times during the past week on the same machines.

On Wednesday the seventh and ninth grades at the junior high were tested.

Turner Named Finance Head

Harvey G. Turner was appointed chairman of the finance committee at the meeting held Tuesday night. He succeeds Hugh Bullock, who felt that pressure of business would not permit his acceptance of the chair again this year.

The committee approved transfers of $100 for corrugated pipe, $200 for gravel and $820 for truck hire for the Board of Public Works to use in connection with W.P.A. The secretary of the school board was also present to discuss the transfer of $60 for the Shawsheen gym floor which the committee was unable to transfer on advice from the State House.

PLANNING FIRE-BELL CODE

Last Friday the third fire drill since school reopened was held, during the fifth period at Punchard. The drill was carried out well, and at Monday morning's assembly, Mr. Hamblin said that he felt that the building could be cleared out in good order if there ever was a fire. He also stated that he would try to arrange a code on the firebells so that the students would know which door to go out. If there was ever a fire it would cut off at least one of the three exits that the students have been using, thus this need for added precaution.

Junior High School Notes

EDITORIAL

We have just completed three weeks of school. These three weeks are perhaps the most trying in the school year; they have been spent in preparation for the year's work to come. We of the upper grades have welcomed the newcomers to our school and invited them to take part in all our activities. We hope these three weeks have shown them what an excellent school we have so that they may be as proud of it as we who have been here longer.

Everyone should join the Student Government association, not only because of its numerous benefits but because it makes its members feel that they really belong to the school and are a part of it. We should all support its officers in every way and if we have suggestions to make to the Council give them to our home-room representatives.

Athletics have started and there are enough different kinds of sports and teams for everyone to join at least one. For the girls there are teams in soccer and field hockey and for the boys in soccer and football. Tennis tournaments are being run off. Horse-back riding is also being taught to those who can plan to take it.

All students who have any school spirit should make a point to join a team, fight to the finish, and act like a good sport if his team loses.

The most important thing in school is, naturally, our lessons. By now we should all have buckled down and laid a foundation for the year's work. All fooling must be stopped and home work should be done daily with utmost care. Let us all make this the best year we have ever had and make a point of learning something of value to us every day. We want our mothers and fathers as well as our teachers to be proud of us.—Joseph Payne

The editorial staff for the Press club has not yet been chosen. Members of the club are competing for the various positions, and many would-be editorial writers and reporters handed in material for this issue of the Townsman. It is regretted that only a small fraction of it can be used, but it makes the competition keener and we all enjoy doing the work.

EXTENSION COURSE

A very worth-while and interesting course will be given at the Andover junior high school, starting on Monday, October 4, at 4.15. It is brought to Andover through the courtesy of the Harvard-Boston University Extension Courses. The professors who are giving the lectures are Frederick Rand Rogers and Mabel C. Bragg. The course is entitled "The School Program in Health and Physical Education," and will deal with the principles and practices involved in conserving the health of school children and teaching them to care for their own physical welfare. There are to be sixteen lectures and the course is open to anyone interested in taking it.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week is Fire Prevention week. We have planned an assembly program to illustrate its aims. Colorful posters hang in the corridors to show us the dangers of fire and what we can do to prevent them.

One day last week we had two fire drills, during which we cleared the building quickly and quietly. In case of fire in school we are taught to observe the following suggestions:

1. Keep calm.
2. Understand the fire signals when given.
3. Form habit of stopping all activity when the signal sounds.
4. Observe fire regulations calmly and with confidence in the teacher's ability to meet the emergency.

TEACHERS' PICNIC

On Thursday the junior high school teachers entertained the Punched faculty at a picnic. From all we hear they had a very gay time but no one will tell us where they went.—The Student Body

OUR ORCHESTRA

Ever since the first week of school the orchestra has been practicing faithfully under the direction of Miss Doris Newton, our new assistant director of music. The selections which we have learned include "The Star Spangled Banner," "America," and "Hail to the Chief." The members of the orchestra, with the instruments they play, follow: Violins—Helen Brickett, Marilyn Barlow, Isabel Deyermond, Edith Dunnells, Vernie Livingston, Walter MacTammany, Helene Manning, Gerard Twomey, Edward Valentine, and Malcolm Yaghmovrian; trumpets—Walter Cassidy, Lincoln Clark, Theron Lane, Jack Pidgeon, and Richard Steinert; clarinets—Lois Henderson, James Moreton, Joseph Payne; saxophone, Barbara Corney; flute—Crosby Hitchcock; xylophone—David Markert; drums—Albert Frederick, Doris Manthorne and Charles Sanborn—Charles Sanborn

PRESS AND LIBRARY CLUBS

So far two clubs have been organized, the Library club and the Press club. Neither club has chosen its officers as yet, but both have started to work. The Library club manages the school library. It chooses new books, catalogues all of its books and magazines, and furnishes student librarians throughout the day to advise and help those who come to the library for reference work.

The Press club writes the school news for the Townsman. The members will learn how to write editorials, criticisms of books and moving pictures, how to have interviews with important people, and how to search for interesting news items.

Other clubs will be formed within a week or two.

OUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The student body of the Andover junior high school is governed by an organization to which every boy and girl can belong, the Student Government association. The governing board of this association is called the Student Council, whose members are the presidents and vice-presidents of each home room. This council nominates two candidates for each of the officers of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the whole school. The entire association then votes and the winning candidates assume office at once.

The Student Council meets once a week and in this meeting hears the report of the secretary and treasurer of the Council. The latter reports on the amount of money collected from dues in each room and keeps a record of all expenditures. The Council then discusses problems and ideas which have been brought up in the home rooms which they come to represent.

Dues are $1.00 a year if paid before January 1; if not, they are $1.05. They may be paid all at once or at the rate of three cents a week. The money is used to finance school entertainments, lectures, dances, athletic contests, and all other extra-curricular activities.—Mary Ring

NOMINATE OFFICERS FOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Nominations were recently announced by the Student Council at an assembly in the auditorium. The members of the Council who were introduced by Mr.

Sherman, sat on the stage. The nominations follow: President, Benjamin Forbes and Glenna Markert; vice-president, Madeline Grout and Stafford Lindsay; secretary, Janet Carter and Isabel Dobbie; treasurer, Mary Carroll O'Connell and Charles Sawyer.—William Beaulieu

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Fall sports for girls include field hockey, soccer, tennis, and horseback riding.

The following girls are competing in the tennis tournament: Janet Carter-Nornie Johnson, Janice Hyland-Louise Dowd, Isabel Johnson-Pauline MacMackin, Janet Gillan-Jeanette Batcheller, Margaret MacFarlin-Rebecca Stevens, Edna Nutton-Marilyn Barlow, Ruth Bissett-Marjorie Foster, Doris Anderson-Virginia Humphries.

The ninth grade girls are slow in signing up for hockey, but there are enough girls for three teams in soccer.

Instruction in riding will be given at the Idle Hour Riding farm. So far the only ninth grade girl signed up for riding is Eleanor Rafton.—Thelma Fairweather

TAG FOOTBALL

Intramural tag football has been launched at the junior high school under the sponsorship of Mr. Sherman, Mr. Dunn, Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Dimlich. A total of 108 boys are participating. Games were played on September 21, with the All-Stars, the Forbes, the Shamrocks and the Collins winning, and on September 24 with the Forbes, Shamrocks, Thompsons and Comets winning. Team 4 and the Jenkins have lost twice.

The standing at present:

	Won	Lost	Ave.
Forbes	2	0	1.000
Shamrocks	2	0	1.000
All-Stars	1	1	.500
Collins	1	1	.500

School Children Honor Officer

At the Shawsheen School last Friday afternoon the children gathered in the hall to pay their respects to Officer Thomas F. Dailey who is retiring from police duty after having guided these and other school children across Shawsheen streets for fourteen years.

The following program came as a complete surprise to Mr. Dailey: Song, "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow", Everybody; Recitation, "The Traffic Cop," Robert Miller; presentation of a pair of slippers to Mr. Dailey, Sam Waugh; Recitation, "The Policeman" Harvey Sprague; Song, "Auld Lang Syne", Margaret Mitchell and Gordon Robb, each holding Mr. Dailey's hands; Long cheer, by fifth and sixth grades.

In response Mr. Dailey gave a short talk expressing his appreciation. He was deeply touched by his loving tribute to him. Chairman Frederick C. Smith of the School Board expressed the regret they all would have in not seeing Mr. Dailey at his old post of duty, and he wished him good health.

BADLY BURNED

Frederick W. Bennett of 51 Enmore street was removed to the Lawrence General hospital Monday morning suffering from first degree burns received when he was repairing some fuses. He was burned from the wrists to the elbows of both arms.

Mr. Bennett is chief foreman at the Shawsheen Dairy.

DRILL TEAM TO REHEARSE

The Ladies' Drill team of the Clan Johnston auxiliary will start rehearsals on Sunday at 2.30 in the town hall. They have accepted an invitation to take part in the New England State Championship competition to be held in Pawtucket, October 23.

Andover's First Fire Engine in 1830

Andover's first fire engine was located in the North Parish. In 1830 Captain Nathaniel Stevens purchased a fire engine in Boston and placed it in service in Stevens Village, organizing a company, from among the residents of the village. This company responded to all alarms in the North Parish up to 1850, when the town purchased the Cochichewick Engine No. 2 and organized a fire company at the Centre. After that the Stevens engine did not respond except on a call to help the local town company.

Saturday, April 5, 1851 at 11.15 p.m. a large barn in the Davis and Furber yard burned. This was the first service of the Cochichewick Engine company at a fire, and the Stevens engine assisted, all this service being rendered by the Stevens engine without any expense to the town. This engine was a bucket type and did not have any suction hose. In 1901 North Andover purchased a steam fire engine and the firemen gave it a royal reception.

Saturday, August 24, 1901, a fireman's muster, street parade, trial of engine, hose racing and coupling contest were held. The Stevens engine was tuned up, held the right of the line in parade, and at the engine contest played a good stream. The first type of engine and the last type of steam fire engine played side by side.

The last parade of the Stevens engine was at the fireman's muster Saturday, August 9, 1924 in North Andover.

FIRE RECORD

A locomotive spark and a burned-out motor gave the local firemen two minor fires this week. Last Friday evening they extinguished a blaze which did about $10 damage to a cement shed belonging to Fred White on Buxton court. It is believed that a spark from a passing locomotive caused the fire.

On Tuesday afternoon the department responded to a call for a partition fire at a restaurant on North Main street, only to find that it was a refrigerator motor that had burned out.

PUNCHARD JUNIORS ELECT

Last Friday, at a meeting in the Auditorium, the junior class of Punchard High School, elected their class officers for the remainder of the school year. These officers are as follows: President, Robert Towne; vice-president, Kenneth Gordon; secretary, Kenneth Gordon; treasurer, Donald East.

Albert Miller was recently elected secretary-treasurer of the senior class at Punchard.

Phillips Academy to Open Football Season Tomorrow

Phillips academy, with a veteran backfield and a green line, will open its season tomorrow against the New Hampshire Freshman team, also untried as yet. The New Hampshire boys have only had about a week's practice under Coach Karl Lundholm who has had to weed out a first team of the 90 men reporting.

Last Saturday Coach Ray Shepard ran his charges through an offensive scrimmage against the Grey Jerseys. The veteran backfield showed plenty of power, making a touchdown every time they had the ball, chiefly around the ends. Untried defensively, the first string line did well on the offense, ripping good holes through the second team line. Townson and Tine showed up especially well in the backfield, with Harrison, Seymour and Gould also making some nice runs.

Lawrence's Johnny Murphy will be on the side lines for the first few games because of a dislocated elbow. One of the best backs in the squad, his presence will be severely missed.

Coach Lundholm has a couple of tackles who tip the scales at 190 and 200. His backfield averages a little over 160.

Before you are five-and-twenty you must establish a character that will serve you all your life.—Lord Collingwood.

Thursday, Oct. 14—Yale vs. Dartmouth.

A Hi-Li tournament will be begun very shortly for the girls.

SHAWSHEEN BLANKS VIKINGS

Last Saturday morning on Balmoral Field The Shawsheen A.A. team beat the Vikings of Lawrence 33 to 0 in the first game of the season.

Captain Ben Forbes did some fine playing and during the first half when John Mitchell ran 30 yards before passing the ball to Forbes he continued on for a touchdown.

Forbes scored two touchdowns, John Mitchell 1, Stephen Moss 1, and Peter Brucato 1.

Points after touchdown were scored by Howard Proctor, David Robb, and Peter Brucato.

Harold Walker was referee. Robert MacMackin and Darrell Sprague were linesmen. Alex MacBeth was the Shawsheen Coach.

Punchard Annexes Second Victory

Punchard High School's gridiron boys won the second game of their football schedule of the fall season, last Saturday, when they beat Boston Farm and Trade High, 40-0. Boston was held powerless under Punchard's aerial and ground attacks. The startling lineup for both teams was as follows:

One touchdown was made in the first quarter. After a Boston kick Lynch received, rushing the ball up to Boston's 45-yard line. Bisset took it up to the 40 and on the next Lynch made a 10-yard gain. On a bad center, Lynch dropped the ball and was thrown down back on the 45-yard line. Lynch then passed to Noyes who caught it on Boston's 15. Miller took it to the five, then Lynch crossed the goal-line for the first touchdown of the day, and also kicked the point after the down. Punchard kicked the ball, Krebs of Boston, receiving. Captain Delorie then took it but no gain was made. Delorie kicked and Lynch of Punchard caught it and made a beautiful run up to the 57-yard line. Much of the credit for this play went to Jones for doing a wonderful piece of blocking work, running interference. Noyes brought the ball up to Boston's 38-yard line, Bisset to the 30, and Lakin to the 25. Bisset attempted to pass, but was frustrated. Lynch then threw a pass to Bisset which the latter caught on Boston's 10-yard line. This made a first down. Lynch then brought it up to the 5-yard line, and then to the one yard line as the period ended.

Walker and Towne went in for Lakin and Bisset. Lynch made the second touchdown of the game, but failed to kick the point. Punchard kicked to Boston, Delorie taking the ball, and then Krebs fumbled the ball. Lynch recovered, making a short run over the opponent's goal line, but the ball was brought back and Punchard was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness and clipping. Towne dropped the ball and upon recovering was promptly tackled. Lynch took the ball over for the third touch down of the game. Noyes plunged through the line making the point when the ball was again put into play. Coach Lovely then took out most of the first team and put the following players in: l.e., R. Anderson; l.t., Brown; l.g., Collins; c., Butler; r.g., Blamire; r.t., R. Gordon; r.e., K. Gordon; q.b., Walker; r.h.b., Towne; Lakin, l.h.b. and Howe at f.b. Punchard kicked, and Boston was forced down on their 18-yard line. Next they made the 23-yard line. It was then that Boston passed and Douglas Howe of Punchard intercepted. Walker then scored the fourth touchdown for Punchard from the 12-yard line and Noyes scored the point after the goal by plunging through the line.

Punchard failed to score in the third period, the main feature being three successive successful passes from Walker to Lakin, bringing the ball to Boston's fifteen where Punchard lost the ball on downs for the first time. However, Miller recovered a Boston fumble on the thirteen-yard line to pave the way for a touchdown at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Coach Lovely put in this third team as follows: R. Anderson, l.e.; Crosby, l.t.; Benvy, l.g.; Sellers, c.; MacMackin, r.t.; Buchan, r.e.; Deyermund; q.b., W. Anderson; l.h.b., Howe; r.h.b., Haggerty; f.b., McLaughlin. Donald McLaughlin of Punchard plunged through the line twice, first to the 10 and then to the one yard line. Frank Haggerty scored the fifth touchdown of the game, but failed to score the point.

Later with the help of the first team line Donald McLaughlin made Punchard's sixth touchdown, and then he plunged over the goal line to make the point after the touchdown.

Scores Hole-in-One at Country Club

The dream of all golfers, a hole in one, was scored at the seventh at the Andover country club last Sunday by James H. Eaton. He was playing a friendly match with Harold Rutter and James Scobie at the time. The seventh is 130 yards.

Punchard to Meet Danvers

The Punchard high school football team will journey to Danvers tomorrow to see what they can do with much stronger opposition than they have had. Fresh from two straight victories, Howe 26 to 0, and Boston Farm and Trade 40 to 0, Coach Lovely's boys will pit their strength against the Danvers lads in an endeavor to bring home victory by winning the third game of their schedule.

Bailey Lenane, regular center, may be unable to play, due to a tonsil operation which he had last week. Frank Dushame, Jr., Punchard's star halfback, may be kept out of the game, due to injuries received to his hand, during the Howe massacre.

Coach Lovely has been detained at his home with a cold the past few days, but he will be able to attend Saturday's game. Assistant Coach Joseph B. Doherty has had charge of the football practice afternoons during his absence.

The student body may accompany the players. Wednesday notice was sent around that if enough students signed up, Mr. Wright would take them in the bus for 25 cents, round trip.

Punchard will be up against one of the hardest obstacles in the path of a successful season when they play Danvers. Beverly beat Danvers 29-0, two weeks ago, and beat Johnson high last week 12 to 2.

Coach Lovely will probably start the same line-up as last week, with the exception of Lenane.

The officials: Gaffey, referee; Tilton, umpire; Bevins, head linesman.

Larry Connery was born in Lynn 42 years ago, the son of the late Mayor William P. Connery, Sr., and Mary Connery. He was educated at St. Mary's School, Lynn, St. Mary's college, Kansas and Georgetown University Law school. For several years he was a newspaper reporter in Lynn and Salem and when his brother Billy was elected to Congress in 1922 he gave up an important position with the United Fruit Company to become his secretary.

The Lynn candidate is a World War veteran, having served with his brother in the 101st Infantry, 26th (Yankee) Division during the entire time that famous regiment was in France. He holds the rank of captain, staff, 26th Division, U. S. Army Reserve.

During the 15 years he has served as his brother's secretary, he has gained a wide knowledge of the problems of the people of every city and town in the Seventh Congressional District. Since his brother's passing in June, he has been carrying on the work of clerk of the Seventh Congressional District, having been designated to do so by Congress. He is married and makes his home at 15 Bellevue road, Lynn.

Large Crowd at

Officer Shoots
to Puncture Tire

Officer John Deyermund nabbed an alleged hit-and-run driver on Saturday night after a chase in which the officer had to resort to his gun before the driver would stop.

Carl H. Berger of Lynn was booked at the station about 11.30. Officer Deyermund was on duty in the square when he heard a crash caused by the sideswiping of a car parked in front of the National bank. He saw the car involved in the crash speeding off, and he immediately commandeered the car of Joseph O'Brien, parked on the east side of the street. O'Brien turned the car around the traffic stand and speeded after the fleeing car, catching up to it at Chapel avenue. Pulling alongside Officer Deyermund blew his whistle, but instead of stopping, the driver, according to the police report, tried to crowd O'Brien off the road. O'Brien dropped back, and when the whistle failed again, Officer Deyermund pulled out his gun and fired two shots into the other car's tire, puncturing it. The driver then stopped.

Berger was in court this morning on charges of drunkenness, operating to endanger, operating under the influence, and leaving the scene after causing damage to property.

To Hold Finals for Club Championship

James H. Eaton, many times champion of the Andover country club, will meet Philip Graham on Sunday at the club in the 36-hole final for the 1937 championship. Eaton was medalist in the qualifying round.

Marriages

Frank E. Mason and Mary M. Curtis, both of North Reading, were married at the home of Rev. Lorentz I. Hansen, 7 Dumbarton street, Monday evening at 7.30. Norman W. Mason, a brother, and Mrs. George Sullivan were attendants. The couple will live in North Reading for the present. Mr. Mason was born in Andover.

New Mexico" is not so naive and direct as one would suppose from the simple left to right composition.

An item which to my knowledge has not been exhibited before is the small collection of medals, in two cases. Medals usually have too much of an official character, and the enjoyment of them must be largely restricted to collectors or to the honoured persons to whom they are presented, like General Zachary Taylor. The modern medals are not very interesting except for the ones by St. Gaudens and Manship. The old ones are much more pleasing; the one representing the Battle of Germantown is very reminiscent of the landscapes by the Philadelphia modern primitive painter, John Kane.

The Print Room's best pictures are the dramatic lithographs of Bellows. The Gallery is fortunate in possessing a thoroughly adequate number of these.

When Gene Lovely Was Only in His Eleventh Year

Back in 1921 these boys were fighting for Punchard, in Gene Lovely's eleventh year as coach. They are: 1, Murray Tuttle; 2, Herb Adams; 3, Sam Battles; 4, Bertie Chandler; 5, John Fredrickson; 6, Charlie Fredrickson; 7, Bill Stewart; 8, Bandy Pratt; 9, Bill Doherty; 10, Rus Carter; 11, John Souter; 12, Gus Wade; 13, Dave Haines; 14, Art Fallon; 15, "Boots" Barnes; 16, Joe Wright; 17, George Dove; 18, Captain Red Dyer; 19, Tim Saunders; 20, Captain-elect Tom Stack; 21, Paul Dyer.

Perhaps the Whistler prints are rather too few, for if they are really not so representative as works of American Art, they are important in the history of etching. Of course the Gallery owns many more prints than the ones which can be shown at one time in the Print Room.

Watercolors Upstairs

Upstairs, the two smaller rooms contain watercolors, of which the Gallery has an important collection, only lacking perhaps some more of the later Homer watercolors which have had such a strong influence on modern American watercolor painters. On the other hand, the original decorative watercolors by Prendergast take up a whole wall. There are many Davies: the charm of his dreamy pictures is hard to resist even while one feels that they are too literary. The two pastels by Preston Dickinson have a jewel-like perfection and the Marin watercolor all the brilliancy and fluidity which I imagine to be characteristic of Maine landscapes. There is a new watercolor by Curry "Flood in Kansas" which manages to be really sinister and threatening, by the use of very subtle color.

Most of the oil paintings are in the rooms that usually have the permanent collection; the largest of the other rooms has been used for some of the largest pictures which are also some of the best. It is certainly true of this collection, of pictures that their quality improves as they grow smaller, perhaps because then they are more useful and appropriate to American life; most American interiors where these pictures should be ideally hung, are small and intimate.

To enjoy large pictures one must be able to back away from them, and large expanses of oil paint upon canvas, either in the gloomy or splashy varieties of nineteenth century painting do not make a decorative surface when seen close to. Certainly if one wanted a covering for a large piece of wall, one would really not choose the melancholy and battered looking Monadnock Angel, by Thayer, to cover up the damp spots. This pointless picture, the largest owned by the gallery, was perhaps never meant by the artist to go down to posterity in its present condition—it is no fresh lively impression, as unfinished pictures often are, but has passed into the second stage where the real struggle begins and the successful end is not yet in sight.

It is rather a confession of defeat for American art on a large scale that the Gallery should cover its largest wall space with a Flemish Renaissance tapestry. Of course the tapestry is not part of the collection, just a temporary loan; but it has been there for at least four years and no large American painting would look half so well in that same space.

Small Works Best

In the Addison Gallery, the loveliest, most desirable paintings are on a small scale. None of the Homers are large, the Ryders are very small, for all the vastness in them. Blakelock's sunset, and Twadman's snow scene are small; the Glackens and Hopper landscapes contain much light, one warm, the other cold, in small frames. Benton's picture is tiny and so is Reginald Marsh's, the best one in the one-man show he held at the Gallery last year. I think that in the majority of lists of favorite pictures of this gallery, most of them would be the smaller ones, and so it would be, I feel sure, in most collections of the conservative type of American painting which forms at present the back log of this collection.

It may be idle to say that American art is greater in its smallest expression when one thinks of all the impetus and energy poured into the making of large mural decoration in this country. But I feel that the hey-day of large pictures was over two hundred years ago, and will come again, but entirely differently, in the modern, technically perfect canvases where the surface and brilliance of paint is carefully studied and laid on in large expanses regardless of representational form: in paintings done in Picano's latest manner, and by other younger painters. The American spirit is supposed to be large and free and no doubt huge American paintings will one day be made which will have the excellence of the present smaller ones.

TROOP 74 MEETS

The regular meeting of troop 74 was held last Friday evening. After the routine drill, several instructive games were played including a knot tying relay and a compass relay. Scoutmaster Clare Norton Jr. gave a talk on first aid.

Next Friday evening the meeting of Troop 74 will be held in the scout cabin on Prospect hill. The meeting will consist of contests between patrols and a campfire.

SUFFER DOGBITES

Miss Elizabeth Douty of Salem street was bitten by a dog on Monday, and on Tuesday Augustine Grant of Central street was bitten. Both were treated by physicians.

Do You Know Him?

It was taken up by the Punchard school, oh, twenty-five to thirty years or so ago. His name is Edward Robert Lawson, now assistant superintendent of the Board of Public Works. The tree incidentally was still able to stand by itself when Ted stopped holding it up.

Punchard Service Club Organizes

The sophomore class of Punchard met in room 12 last Friday afternoon during the utility period in connection with the Service club of the school. Copies of the constitution of the club were distributed to everyone present. Virginia Batcheller, president of the senior class, read the constitution, its by-laws, and the services which may be performed for the school, the number of points for these, and the number of points required for awards.

The purpose of this club is to enable the students of Punchard high school to take an active part in the citizenship of the school, and so to improve the school community.

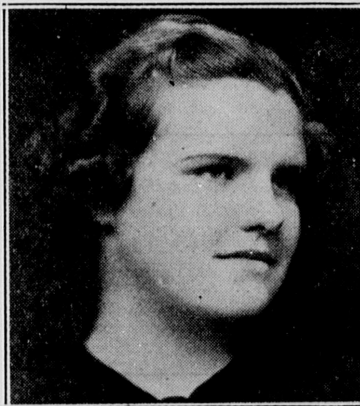

Meetings are to be held on the first Monday of each month. It shall be the duty of each member to submit to the recording secretary records approved by the teacher for whom work is done, before credits for awards shall be given. Eight points are required for an award, the award being a "P," not of the design of that such as is awarded for athletics, but being a letter of old English style.

Points shall be given for the following services: Punch Harder, plays and speaking contests, cafeteria, secretarial, perfect attendance, service to club officers, traffic squad, miscellaneous aid, cheer leaders.

NOTHING MORE TO PAY

● It's not the first cost—it's the upkeep that makes driving yourself expensive. It costs you about 5¢ a mile to drive a small car—7¢ for a medium and 11¢ or more for a large car. And costs are going up! The cost of travel in Boston and Maine coaches is way down. It's 2¢ a mile. And since we reduced fares we have greatly improved equipment. You travel behind big, powerful new locomotives that hit 75 miles an hour in safety—much faster between cities than you can safely drive yourself. Free from traffic—the road is open all the way. You travel in smart, new, air-conditioned cars—Luxuriously designed, restful—Colorful. They will, frankly, amaze you. Sit down and figure it out yourself—Measure cost, comfort, safety, time-saving, speed and relaxation. If you want Top Value for your 1937 Travel Dollar, you'll travel by B and M this Fall.

Xmas Seal Sale Group to Meet

First Meeting to Be Held Tuesday at Wildwood—Sale Starts at Thanksgiving

New knowledge regarding the sale of seals at Christmas time will be disclosed at the first seal sale meeting of the year which will be held in collaboration with the semi-annual luncheon meeting of the Essex County Health association, at Wildwood Farm in Andover on Tuesday, at 12.30 o'clock. Never before in the history of the association, has the semi-annual meeting been held in the northern part of the county and due to this fact, it is hoped that many more people may attend.

Of vital interest to all, will be the outlining of the program of the Boston Tuberculosis association, by its executive secretary, Miss Bernice Billings, R.N., speaker of the day. Following this talk, Miss Vera B. Griffin, executive secretary for this county, will hold a discussion of the plans for the 1937 Christmas seal sale throughout Essex county.

As a result of this meeting, the program, for raising funds for tuberculosis prevention work, will be well under way.

Dr. Olin S. Pettingill, superintendent of the Essex sanatorium and president of the organization, will preside during the short business meeting, at which time the 1937 Camp Report will be read by Miss Vera B. Griffin, camp director, and the Topsfield Fair exhibit report will be given by Miss Marion C. Grout, health educational secretary.

It is hoped that chairmen and members of the Seal Sale committees from the towns and cities throughout the county, will find this meeting both beneficial and interesting, and that they will receive stimulus for their Seal Sale Drive which starts directly after Thanksgiving.

Young Couples Enjoy Picnic

Rev. and Mrs. Herman C. Johnson were the guests of the Young Married Group of the Free church at their first meeting of the season, which was held on Wednesday evening at Berry's pond.

A picnic supper was enjoyed followed by songs, stunts and stories.

Those in attendance were: Rev. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Nicoll, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milligan, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Black, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Swanton.

The next meeting of the group will be held on October 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Perry on Elm street.

Garden Club to Begin Season

On Tuesday, at ten o'clock a.m. the first meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held at the Phillips Inn.

The Club President, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, will preside, and the speaker, S. H. Pool, has chosen the subject, Gourds.

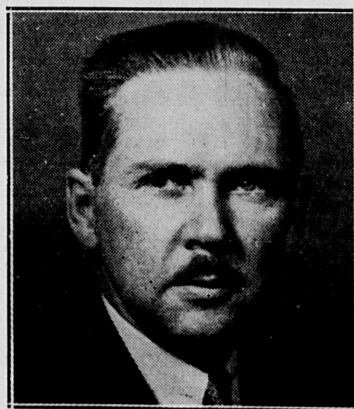

The directors, with Mrs. Arthur Sweeney as chairman, will be in charge of the exhibit of chrysanthemums which are to be arranged by the members, who are invited to participate in this feature of the program.

V. F. W. Officers Re-Nominated

A special meeting of the V.F.W. was held Saturday evening. Routine business was transacted. Two new members were initiated. Nomination of officers resulted as follows: Commander, Edward Dodge; S.V. Commander, Frank Petty; J.V. Commander, John O'Neil; Chaplain, John Henderson; Quartermaster, Arthur W. Cole; and Judge Advocate, John M. Erving. Delegates will be elected at the meeting tonight.

Saturday evening the Post will conduct a mystery ride. All who wish to go should get in touch with William Snyder and Arthur Cole for tickets. The ride will start at the Post Rooms at 6.30.

Resigns P. T. A. Post

George A. Irwin

When the Andover Parent-Teacher association opens its season on Wednesday, October 20, it will be without the services of George A. Irwin, who has resigned his position as president because of business duties which call him out-of-town.

Harold C. Dunn has been named president in Mr. Irwin's place.

Goodwin Wins Valley Title

Sunday afternoon at the Balmoral Courts in Shawsheen Village, George Goodwin of Haverhill won the Merrimack Valley Tennis Championships for the present season by defeating John Butler of Lowell, 6-2, 6-4, 8-10, 6-2. It was an interesting match and Goodwin had to battle his Lowell opponent hard in the third set, losing 8-10. Goodwin reached the finals by defeating James Leighton of Lowell in straight sets on Saturday 6-1, 6-1.

Butler advanced to the title round by winning over Charles Stillwell of North Andover in the semi-finals 6-3, 7-5.

Augustine Riley of Lawrence was eliminated in the quarter-finals Saturday by Butler of Lowell who won straight sets 6-2, 6-1. Riley defeated Francis Sparks of Andover Saturday 6-1, 6-1.

ALLIANCE TO OPEN

The opening meeting of the Woman's Alliance of the North Parish Church (Unitarian), North Andover, will be held Thursday, October 7.

A luncheon will be served at one o'clock and the speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Fred Whittier.

Mrs. Whittier will read a report on the Isles of Shoals Conference which she attended as a delegate from the North Andover alliance.

HORSESHOE LEAGUE

ORGANIZES

The senior high school singles horseshoe tournament at Punchard was recently organized. Those playing are: G. Sorenson, H. Bishop, L. Dearborn, T. Davies, R. Morin, V. Mahoney, W. Richardson, and N. Whitaker.

The eight boys are paired together in that order, and the boy who beats his partner plays the winner of another group. The losers drop out and the winners play until one boy wins the tournament. The tournament winner for Punchard meets the winner in the junior high, for the championship.

Slattery Class Installs Officers

Mrs. John Souter was installed as president of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free church on Monday evening at a meeting held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Herman C. Johnson. Plans were made for a Hallowe'en party. Mrs. Johnson served refreshments.

Other officers installed were: secretary, Miss Edna Woodhead; treasurer, Miss Marion Silva; committee chairmen, ways and means, Miss Grace Lake; remembrance, Miss Isobel Mackenzie; press, Miss Lillian Brown.
